Sample Size

The results of this opinion poll are based upon a representative sample of 936 eligible Irish voters aged 18 years+.

Fieldwork

As such, the results can be deemed to be accurate to within plus or minus 3.3 percentage points at the 95% confidence level. Fieldwork was conducted on an in-home, face-to-face basis over the period 5th – 17th January, 23.

Location

The sample was stratified across all constituencies at 125 locations in the country with individuals selected for interview by way of Demographic Quotas (age, gender, socio-economic status) in line with Central Statistics Office (CSO) and market research industry population estimates.

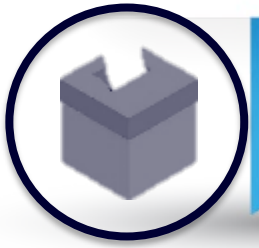
Technical Appendix

Weighting

The subsequent survey results are weighted to reflect the known demographic profile of Irish adults, utilising the most recently published census population estimates from the Central Statistics Office (CSO).

Party Support

Party support levels are subsequently realigned in accordance with a technical adjustment factor, designed to smooth the effects of extreme highs and lows in support levels for individual parties as measured at a single point in time, and taking variable election day turnout levels into account.



Guidelines

All aspects of the survey, including the Party Support adjustment factor, are implemented in accordance with the technical and ethical guidelines set down by the Association of Irish Market Research Organisations (AIMRO) and the European Society of Opinion & Market Research (ESOMAR).

Q.7 If there was a General Election tomorrow, to which party or independent candidate would you give your first preference vote?

Party Support Adjustment Factor: Technical Note

- Predicting election results on the basis of poll data is not an exact science. All the evidence shows that support for individual parties can swing dramatically in the period between elections- very often outside the bounds of historic election results.
- What to do in these circumstances? Most polling companies in Britain and Ireland publish their raw survey results as an index of fluctuations in the emotional mood of voters. They also build in an adjustment based on a number of factors. Where we have reports of how people voted in the last general election as well as how they intend to vote in the next one we can use these data to model the likely level of swing from the last election results.
- We then add back in the forecasts of voters who have not voted last time or do not answer that particular question.
- Finally we take into account each individuals stated likelihood of voting in a forthcoming General Election.
- This is the basis of the adjusted voting forecast in Behaviour & Attitudes polls.

Sunday Times/Behaviour & Attitudes Opinion Poll Series

Background

- This Sunday Times/ Behaviour & Attitudes (B&A) poll was conducted 5th – 17th January 23.
- The background to the poll (conducted before the Dáil returned), was quite hectic to say the least, with high levels of homelessness and numbers of patients on hospital trolleys. People were also waking up to a Christmas spending 'hangover' after a bumper Christmas spend, especially on food. Energy bills continued to bite, while food prices accelerated. And if that wasn't enough, the cost of our precious pint increased.
- Despite these woes, the economy continues to perform, with almost full employment, and the Government harnessing a bumper €5 billion tax surplus. Certainly, people are concerned about what the rest of 2023 will bring and confidence needs to be built and supported as we face into strong head winds.
- Throughout this period, there have been some protests against refugees, with some elements attempting to hijacking these to promote their message of anti-refuge sentiment. In a time where it is becoming increasingly difficult to make ends meet, will these protests the question is will they gain traction?
- In political circles, Fine Gael TD Neale Richmond was appointed the new Minister of State in the Department of Enterprise following Damien English's resignation. Minister Donohoe's failure to declare a donation was at the centre of a complaint to the Standards in Public Office Commission. And Sinn Féin cited Covid and staff working remotely as the reason for their initial failure to declare a €7,000 election expense on time when submitting returns to Sipo.
- The Northern Ireland all-party talks ended up being only some parties talking – not the best start to the year.
- Overall, it appears to be a feisty January, could this be the mood music for the rest of the year?

Sunday Times/Behaviour & Attitudes Opinion Poll Series

Government and Leader Satisfaction Levels

- As the Dáil returns, the current Government satisfaction remains at 41%.
- Half (51%) are dissatisfied with the current Government (similar to December). Satisfaction levels with the Government remains higher amongst older (55+) voters.
- Micheál Martin's satisfaction rating recovers by three percentage points to 51% (his November level) and he regains the most popular leader title. Interestingly, both Fianna Fáil and Fine Gael voters are equally satisfied with his performance.
- Mary Lou McDonald's satisfaction rating remains high with 47% (down one percentage point) of voters satisfied with her performance.
- Leo Varadkar's satisfaction level is stable at 41% (down one percentage point).
- Eamon Ryan's satisfaction rating is up two percentage points to 32%.
- Ivana Bacik's rating has recovered by three percentage points to 45%.

Sunday Times/Behaviour & Attitudes Opinion Poll Series

Party Support Levels

- Sinn Féin commands a solid 34% support for the fourth wave in a row and they remain the most popular party.
- Fine Gael has taken a hit of four percentage points to 19%, which is not surprising given the recent media scrutiny, with Fianna Fáil most likely benefiting with support levels increasing by four percentage points to 25%.
- Meanwhile, Independents' support levels have reduced by four points to 8%, with smaller parties appearing to benefit.
- Labour increased by one percentage point to 4%.
- The Green Party remain on 5%.
- The Social Democrats and Solidarity/PBP both increased by one percentage point each and have 2% support levels.
- Overall the total Government support is maintained, albeit with shifting support. Undoubtedly Fine Gael will be hoping to get back to the core business of the day sooner rather than later. As we enter 2023, Sinn Féin have picked up where they left off, maintaining their solid level of support – it really is a very consistent picture for them.
