Sample Size

The results of this opinion poll are based upon a representative sample of 910 eligible Irish voters aged 18 years+.

Fieldwork

As such, the results can be deemed to be accurate to within plus or minus 3.3 percentage points at the 95% confidence level. Fieldwork was conducted on an in-home, face-to-face basis over the period 28th June – 12th July 2023.

Location

The sample was stratified across all constituencies at 125 locations in the country with individuals selected for interview by way of Demographic Quotas (age, gender, socio-economic status) in line with Central Statistics Office (CSO) and market research industry population estimates.

Weighting

The subsequent survey results are weighted to reflect the known demographic profile of Irish adults, utilising the most recently published census population estimates from the Central Statistics Office (CSO).

Party Support

Party support levels are subsequently realigned in accordance with a technical adjustment factor, designed to smooth the effects of extreme highs and lows in support levels for individual parties as measured at a single point in time, and taking variable election day turnout levels into account.

Guidelines

All aspects of the survey, including the Party Support adjustment factor, are implemented in accordance with the technical and ethical guidelines set down by the Association of Irish Market Research Organisations (AIMRO) and the European Society of Opinion & Market Research (ESOMAR).

Party Support Adjustment Factor: Technical Note

- Predicting election results on the basis of poll data is not an exact science. All the evidence shows that support for individual parties can swing dramatically in the period between elections- very often outside the bounds of historic election results.
- What to do in these circumstances? Most polling companies in Britain and Ireland publish their raw survey results as an index of fluctuations in the emotional mood of voters. They also build in an adjustment based on a number of factors. Where we have reports of how people voted in the last general election as well as how they intend to vote in the next one we can use these data to model the likely level of swing from the last election results.
- We then add back in the forecasts of voters who have not voted last time or do not answer that particular question.
- Finally, we take into account each individuals stated likelihood of voting in a forthcoming General Election.
- This is the basis of the adjusted voting forecast in Behaviour & Attitudes polls.

Sunday Times/Behaviour & Attitudes Opinion Poll Series

Background

- The fieldwork for this Sunday Times/Behaviour & Attitudes poll was conducted between 29th June to 11th July 2023.
- There has been really only one story dominating the news agenda over the course of this poll - 'RTÉGate' broke.
- A media frenzy ensued with RTÉ Executives grilled by PAC (Public Accounts Committee) on controversial barter accounts, spending thousands on flipflops, rugby tickets, travel and the Champions League Final, etc. This culminated with the appearance of Ryan Tubridy and his agent before PAC as we ended fieldwork. Certainly, a bizarre background to this polling period.
- This story is likely to feature until the major protagonists are either forgiven or leave the stage. These events over the last few weeks have provided an opportunity for some key TDs to stand up and be counted, especially those from the opposition benches.
- In other news, it was reported that the Earth experienced its hottest days on record with the average temperature reaching 17.01C on Monday 4th July, increasing to 17.18C on Tuesday 5th July. Worrying statistics given our collective lack of focus in this area.
- Cost of living remained a talking point as news emerged that household savings had declined to pre-pandemic levels, with inflationary challenges and the cost of living being cited as the key culprits of the reduction. In addition, a recent Eurofound report found that Ireland was impacted more significantly by tech job losses than any other EU state, which was quite timely as Microsoft announced a further reduction in Irish staff numbers.
- While we have been caught up in the RTÉ saga recently, it's clear that the old challenges will soon be front page news again.

Government and Leader Satisfaction Levels

- The satisfaction levels with the Government have returned to April / May levels, with 36% of the electorate satisfied with the Government performance. This is a 3 percentage point drop since June, and 5 percentage points off Jan/Feb levels.
- Of the 54% voters dissatisfied with the Government, those in Dublin show higher levels of dissatisfaction (63%).
- The individual party leader satisfaction ratings have remained relatively stable since our April poll.
- Both Michael Martin and Leo Varadkar have maintained their satisfaction levels across the last 3 waves, standing at 47% and 36% respectively.
- Having experienced an increase in the previous wave, Mary Lou McDonald's satisfaction rating returned to April and May levels at 48% (down 3 percentage points from June).
- Eamon Ryan's satisfaction rating has decreased marginally to 27%. Note that no party leader in the Government has yet recovered from the dissolution of the eviction ban.
- Ivana Bacik's rating has seen a drop of 3 percentage points to 40%.

Sunday Times/Behaviour & Attitudes Opinion Poll Series

Party Support Levels

- Sinn Féin's party support has remained steady at 34%. They maintain their status as the most popular party by 10% percentage points. It has maintained its highest first preference vote share among those under 55, while also being ranked second among those over 55. It is interesting to note that, although they are less popular among middle class voters, they do have the highest share of first preference voters among this cohort (27%).
- Fine Gael support has plateaued once more, with a marginal reduction of 1 percentage point since June to 19%. They have yet to return to support levels seen prior to the lifting of the eviction ban.
- Fianna Fáil's level of support has increased by 3% points to 24%, very close to returning to their January high of 25%.
- Both the Labour Party and Green Party have reduced by 2 percentage points to 4% each.
- Social Democrat support has been maintained at 2%, settling back to more normative levels.
- Other Independents has remained relatively steady at 10% (up 1% point from last wave)
- Overall, total Government support has remained at 47%, someway off 52% support level seen prior to the lifting of the eviction ban in the February poll. As the current RTÉ media frenzy dies down, undoubtedly the underlying national challenges will once again surface, namely housing and the cost-of-living. Time for a summer break to recharge the batteries before the Autumn.
